ABOUT DVVS

The Delaware Valley Vascular Society represents physicians in the Delaware Valley who are currently practicing medicine specializing in vascular disease. The objectives of the DVVS include:

1. to enhance and disseminate education in vascular disease at the undergraduate, medical student, trainee, physician, advance practitioner, vascular technologist, and lay levels.
2. to encourage research in the etiology, diagnosis, and modalities of treatment of vascular disease.
3. to enhance the exchange of ideas through regular scientific meetings.

ABOUT THE DVVS ANNUAL MEETING

This year's Annual Meeting will be featured through presentations by an expert panel and abstract presentations in areas of clinical and basic science research.

The Annual Meeting typically attracts 80-85 vascular surgeons and caregivers from the tri-state area. During the meeting, both the lunch and cocktail reception will be held in the exhibit area to increase interaction between you and our guests.

More than most fields and more than any time in our history, vascular surgery is seeing unprecedented changes. These changes are incredibly exciting and largely based on significant technological advances. As such, your participation in our event is more important than just financial support – it is key to educating physicians in our community.
